Corporate Profile

BUSINESS ETHOS AND MISSION STATEMENT

BinVic offers a fully-integrated project execution service for capital engineering and construction projects across Africa and the globe. The company and its carefully chosen partners specialise in the multi-disciplinary design, co-ordination and execution of entire capital projects for clients across a broad spectrum of sectors – including mining, industrial, oil and gas and general infrastructure .

BinVic is sought after by numerous high profile local and international clients for its knowledge of and experience and expertise in all of the major engineering disciplines, from building, civil and structural including roads and earthworks, to mechanical and electrical. BinVic is renowned for its geographical flexibility and technical innovation in terms of both design and construction methodology, harnessing the justly coveted skills and innovative thought processes of its team of highly prized engineering professionals to provide tailor-made project solutions, irrespective of size, location and accessibility. Whether it be for the construction of a complex processing plant located on a pre-existing mine or for an accommodation development within a remote location, BinVic has a proven track record in the execution of client-centred outcomes on time and on budget, with a safety and environmental record which is second to none.

In addition, BinVic is both proud and privileged to announce that, as of 2020, it is equipped and ready to undertake projects in the fields of OHTE and power infrastructure (both conventional and renewable) by reason of its recent collaborative arrangement with Tractionel Enterprise, a company with decades of execution experience in the above fields.

BinVic's project execution service incorporates all the key stages of a designated project, from design, planning and feasibility, through the provision of human resources and procurement of material resources, to project execution and commissioning. For all projects which BinVic is commissioned to co-ordinate and execute, BinVic strives to ensure that the majority of its direct field labour force is recruited from the local communities within its area of operation, and then given the requisite training to complete the work to the high standards that clients have come to expect from and associate with the BinVic brand. What further sets BinVic apart from others, is its hands-on, personal approach, that sees its directors and senior managers not only engaging directly and conscientiously with the client's designated representatives, but also participating fully in the day to day planning and execution of the projects that are entrusted to the company . Such is the level of BinVic's commitment to engineering excellence and client satisfaction that each project is executed as though the final outcome were for Binvic's own use.

BinVic's project execution ethos integrates people, systems, structures and practices to foster a collaborative approach which ensures the talent and insight of all participants and stakeholders is utilized to the full in the pursuit of excellence. The beauty of this this approach is that it optimises project results, increases owner value, reduces waste and maximises efficiency. It is an approach that has resulted in the successful completion of all of the company's projects.

BinVic's project execution service is enhanced through:

- A strong focus on organisational reputation.
- Alliances and partnerships with industry leaders.
- Emphasis on teamwork.
- The ability to integrate teams into already established organisations.

“BinVic has worked on a range of civil and mechanical projects in our remote gold mining operation in south west Tanzania. It is a customer focused and efficient contractor that has provided confidence in project delivery with a quality outcome. The company is professional and wellorganised, as well as being responsive and working to high standards. It provides clarity in its working relationships and communicates well with its employees.”

Scott Yelland, Chief Operating Officer, Shanta Gold Ltd.

“BinVic's many strengths include their sound business practice and honesty. It's been a pleasure working with their management and employees, who have demonstrated dedication to performing their tasks to the best of their abilities in very challenging environments.” Jason Bergmann,
Managing Director, Small Business Solutions Ltd, Dar es Salaam.

“Working with BinVic has simply been, in one word, FANTASTIC. The love and visible care that the company’s director demonstrates towards his team is something extraordinary. As a result their cohesion as a team is exemplary. I am sure that not a single BinVic employee wants to work for any other company. A further highlight for me has been watching how effective their training is, with the transformation of over 100 local artisan miners into builders who constructed state-of-the-art structures!”
Dr Menrad Kambewe, Head of Community Relations and Occupational Health Departments, Shanta Gold Ltd.

fully-integrated, multidisciplinary services

“BinVic is a very versatile and competent engineering firm which has excelled in a variety of construction works ranging from mid-sized metallurgical process plant expansions to the building of a masonry river dam in a remote African location. During the three years that I have been involved with BinVic, their management team has taken pride in, and maintained a high performance level while delivering cost effective outcomes for the client.” Wally P Channon, CEng MIMMM

VISION

To be the industry's favourite construction-related project management company, with a reputation for over-delivering on each project.

MISSION

The continued successful completion of projects through a combination of skills and determination; a commitment to maintaining solid relationships with clients and employees; and the implementation of the skills suited to achieving the desired outcomes.
